

The case
for and against wind farms

For wind farms

- Wind farms help reduce greenhouse gases.
- They become an income source for the land owners.
- Wind power produces energy for a lot of homes.
- More people are given jobs in building wind farms.
- The wind is a renewable resource.
- They look really cool when they are turning.

Against wind farms

- It takes up too much land to build enough towers to make much power.
- Some people may think they're too noisy.
- They can start community fights when some people want them and others don't.
- If there's no wind, there's no power being made.

My opinion

I think wind farms are great because of all the renewable energy they make .

I would love the view of a wind farm looking right out of my window.

I would love to have the money from leasing my land.

I don't think they will make too much noise.
